Good Resolutions.

John woke on Jan. first and felt queer; Said, "Crackers I'll swear off this year! For the lobster and wine And the rabbit were fine,

Flattery.

Said the lady, "With you I'll not go, You're reported to be far from slow." Said he, turning red,

With a smile quite o'erspread— "O Madame, don't flatter me so!"

The Wicked Punster.

Said a sporty young person named Groat, Who owned an old race-horse of note,

"I consider it smart

To lunch a la cart,

But the horse always takes table d'oat."

Speak Kindly.

She's so homely you'd think she would smother, And her back view is just like her brother.

Her eyes are both bent,

And her nose is a dent:

But then, "she's so good to her mother!"

There was a young lady of Skye, With a shape like a capital I;

She said, "It's too bad!

But then I can pad,"-

Which shows you that figures can lie.

There was an old sculptor named Phidias, Whose knowledge of Art was invidious.

He carved Aphrodite

Without any nightie — Which startled the purely fastidious.

Intemperance.

There once was a baker named Dunn, Who always was out for the fun, And although it was said He was very well bred, He spent all his dough on a "bun"!

There was a fair maiden of Siam, Who said to her lover, "O Priam, You may kiss me, of course, But you've got to use force—

And, God knows, you are stronger than I am!"

There was an old lady of Threedle, Who sat down in church on a needle: Tho' deeply embedded,

Twas luckily threaded,

And quickly pulled out by the beadle

There was a young person named Clyde, Who was once at a funeral espied.

When asked who was dead, He smilingly said:

He smilingly said:

"I don't know — I just came for the ride."

Always Save for a Rainy Day.

There was a young lady named Jane, Who went out to walk in the rain; Her skirts were so lacey It really was racey,

And drove all the chappies insane.

Seize Opportunities.

There was an old lady of Lee,
Who invited the curate to tea.
He said, "You quite shine
In the housewifely line."
"Oh, this is so sudden!" said she.

Respect for Age.

There was an old beau of Formosa. Who ne'er was content with a "No. sah!"

The strength of his arm

Oft excited alarm.

And his motto was "closah and closah."

Uncertainty.

A lady once had a bad habit:

She couldn't see cheese but she'd nab it.

She said, "Memory fails—

Is the rabbit from Wales?

Or do the wails come from the rabbit?"

Art.

There was a fair dame whose manœuvre Was to get her portrait in the Louvre; But they sent it away The very first day -

And it's now in a dive in Vancouvre.

Comparisons are Odious.

A talented artist (Ed Lanseer),

Said, "Beau Brummel, I won't paint these pants here;

I assure you, I can't see That they are so fancy-

Why, last week I saw a dog-fancier."

An old person who lived by his pen, Cried, "Goody! I've got 'em again!

A poem I'll write,

Bout the dawning of night, That will easily collar a ten!"

Do Not be Persistent.

There once was a promising hound,
The fleetest that ever was found;
But his friends all declare,
That when chasing the hare,
He was running things into the ground.

Self-Sufficiency.

There was a young damsel named Nell, Who considered herself quite a belle.

She sat on the sand.

And held her own hand, And never got on to the swell.

Foresight.

There was an old man of Tarrentum, Who sat on his false teeth and bent 'um When asked what he'd lost, And what they had cost,

He replied, "I don't know, I just rent'um."

At a Cursory Glance.

A curate once smote at a tee, And threw his new club up a tree, Saying, "Fie!! My!! Oh, dear!!! I must give up, I fear, Either golf or the ministree!"

There was a fair maid named O'Neil, Who went up in the great Ferris Wheel; On the thirty-fourth round She looked down at the ground —

And it cost her an 80-cent meal.

Perseverance.

There was an old person named Tate
Who out fishing went early and late.
When the fish gave a tug,
Then he pulled on the jug,

Know Your True Worth.

Said a Rooster, "I'd have you all know I am nearly the whole of the show;

Why, the Sun every morn
Gets up with the dawn
For the purpose of hearing me crow!"

Recklessness.

Sir Guy was an amorous knight,
Who costumed himself in a tight.
It was taking a chance
To go without pants,
In case the mosquitoes should bite.
